

Senior Rockies Petrophysicist

A well-capitalized, private equity-backed company with a proven track record is looking to fill a senior petrophysicist position in their Austin, Texas office. The ideal candidate will have 7+ years industry experience with a focus in the Powder River Basin and with resource plays. This role will initially have an exploration focus but may transition to a development role in the future. Candidates should be self-starters with a proven track record of prospect generation, capable of working on complex geologic and petrophysics projects independently. Masters degrees are preferred but not required. Experience using PETRA software is also a plus. This position is in-house and the candidate must be willing to relocate to Austin. The Company offers full benefits and a competitive salary commensurate with experience, including the opportunity to share in the success of the company.
